

Social Programme

Sunday 2 November 2008

Sunday evening travel out to this unique restaurant and winery, which offers a selection of framed views from Oakura to the Sugar Loaf Islands; or move out onto the spacious deck and enjoy outstanding panoramic views from Cape Egmont to New Plymouth. You may even be fortunate enough to see a whale basking off the coast.

There will be some fun activities to take part in; or you can just soak up the environment, network with your colleagues and enjoy a lovely meal and sample some local wines.

Monday 3 November 2008

Enjoy a happy hour after the conference where you can create your own group to dine out at a range of restaurants that we will have available for you. This will be at your own cost.

Tuesday 4 November 2008

The Conference dinner will be held at TSB Bowls of Brooklands – a truly beautiful venue set in the Pukekura Park of New Plymouth. The bowl is a spectacular venue for summer concerts and when night comes, visitors and performers are spellbound as the lighting on the stage and surrounding trees takes effect.

This will be an evening of glamour and sophistication and for those of you who like to dance there'll be a band.

This will be a very special and unique evening which is not to be missed.
